GLO-MEGA® OMEGA II®

Glow-in-the-Dark head protection great for the mining industry, ship yards, underground utilities, and night highway construction.

Q:What causes the Glo-Mega to glow?

A: The glow is caused by photoluminescence, commonly referred to as glow-in-the-dark. The materials used in the Glo-Mega are nothing at all like the glow-in-the-dark materials of several years ago. They charge quickly and glow much brighter and much longer than the glow-in-the-dark items you may remember having as a child.

Q:How long does it take to charge the Glo-Mega?

A: Charging for 10 to 20 minutes in sunlight would be excellent to produce a strong long lasting glow. A half hour in bright fluorescent light would be very good. Even 20 minutes near a 40 watt incandescent bulb will generate a significant glow.

Q:How brightly does the Glo-Mega glow?

A: In intermediate levels of lighting, the Glo-Mega takes on a greenish color as the glow competes with the light from its surroundings. In dark conditions, the Glo-Mega's glow has been measured at 1220 mcd/m² immediately after charging and, after ten minutes was still 45 times as bright as required by ASTM 2073 for emergency signage.

Q:How long can the glow be seen?

A: To eyes accustomed to the dark, the glow can be seen for several days or even weeks after a suitable charge.

Q:How does the after-glow of the Glo-Mega fade?

A: The fading begins as soon as the source of charging is removed - faster at first, then slowing over a long period of time. For a number of hours, this fading is partially offset by a dramatic increase in the sensitivity of the eye to see light.

Q:What is the useful life of the product?

A: The Glo-Mega has the normal life span of a molded polyethylene safety helmet. The photo luminescent properties however, should last almost indefinitely.

The hinged ratchet fits low on the nape of the neck and is height-adjustable for a perfect fit. The ratchet mechanism is cushioned with thick sponge padding for long-lasting comfort.

COOLERZ® RETAIL READY

ADVANCED EVAPORATIVE COOLING TECHNOLOGY

Coolerz® Vest, Crown Cooler and Neck Shield use an advanced evaporative cooling system with a water management system to maximize cooling, while minimizing moisture transfer to the wearer.

- Enhanced cooling capacity
- Managed and directional evaporative cooling release
- Cools longer than other evaporative systems
- Reduces wetness to wearer
- Water repellent nylon inner
- Quilted nylon outer

Coolerz® products utilize a unique polymer chemistry to achieve rapid absorption and stable water storage. The chemical formulation creates enhanced evaporation and longevity. Users can expect the evaporative cooling fabric to provide temperatures that are up to 15 - 20 degrees (F) cooler than the ambient temperature. The exact temperature difference will depend on humidity, exposure to airflow and other environmental conditions.

Easy to use. Simply submerge in water for 1-2 minutes, then gently remove excess water. Garments will remain hydrated for several hours and can be rehydrated as needed.

ANSI/ISEA 107 Inherent Flame Resistant vs. Flame Retardant Treated

Inherent Flame Resistant apparel are garments which are tested and meet various industry standards that require self-extinguishment of the garment after exposure to flames, sparks and more. Garments labeled under the ANSI 107 Standard shall state that flame retardant treated garments do not provide fire protection.

Flame Retardant Treated is a chemical used to treat materials for self-extinguishment which may or may not meet any accepted industry standards. Caution: Logos applied to Flame Retardant Treated fabrics may decrease the effectiveness of the garment's flame retardant properties.

ANSI/ISEA 107 uses the term Flame Resistance for high visibility garments which fully meet one or more of the following standards:

- ASTM F1506
- ASTM F1891
- ASTM F2302
- ATSM F2733
- NFPA 1971
- NFPA 1977
- NFPA 2112

WARNING: Purchasing a vest requires careful selection to ascertain if the garment will protect a worker from sources of heat or ignition that may be present in the work zone. Some commercially available garments listed as FR treated may not give the level of protection called for by the ANSI/ISEA standard, and may not last for more than one wear/wash cycle, nor may all components have flame resistant properties even if the label states that it meets ANSI/ISEA 107. The label must indicate one of the foregoing ASTM or NFPA standards to be considered Inherent Flame Resistant under the ANSI/ISEA 107 Standard.

ERB Safety ANSI/ISEA 107 Update – Labeling changes are underway on all Aware Wear Inherent Flame Resistant and Flame Retardant Treated vests. All flame resistant vests meet the performance criteria of ANSI/ISEA 107 except for required labeling.

CALIFORNIA PROPOSITION 65 also known as Prop 65 and as Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986

What Is Proposition 65?

Proposition 65 requires businesses to notify Californians about significant amounts of chemicals in the products they purchase, in their homes or workplaces, or that are released into the environment. By providing this information, Proposition 65 enables Californians to make informed decisions about protecting themselves from exposure to these chemicals.

The Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) administers the Proposition 65 program. OEHHA, which is part of the California Environmental Protection Agency (Cal/EPA), also evaluates all currently available scientific information on substances considered for placement on the Proposition 65 list.

What types of chemicals are on the Proposition 65 list?

The list contains a wide range of naturally occurring and synthetic chemicals that are known to cause cancer or birth defects or other reproductive harm. These chemicals include additives or ingredients in pesticides, common household products, food, drugs, dyes, or solvents. Listed chemicals may also be used in manufacturing and construction, or they may be by-products of chemical processes, such as motor vehicle exhaust.

What requirements does Proposition 65 place on companies doing business in California?

Businesses are required to provide a “clear and reasonable” warning before knowingly and intentionally exposing anyone to a listed chemical. This warning can be given by a variety of means, such as by labeling a consumer product, posting signs at the workplace, distributing notices at a rental housing complex, or publishing notices in a newspaper. Once a chemical is listed, businesses have 12 months to comply with warning requirements.

What does a warning mean?

If a warning is placed on a product label or posted or distributed at the workplace, a business, or in rental housing, the business issuing the warning is aware or believes that one or more listed chemicals is present. By law (in California), a warning must be given for listed chemicals unless exposure is low enough to pose no significant risk of cancer or is significantly below levels observed to cause birth defects or other reproductive harm.

However, a business may choose to provide a warning simply based on its knowledge, or assumption, about the presence of a listed chemical without attempting to evaluate the levels of exposure. The business issuing the warning should be contacted for specific information, such as what chemicals are present, and at what levels, as well as how exposure to them may occur.

Who enforces Proposition 65? (only for California)

The California Attorney General's Office enforces Proposition 65. Any district attorney or city attorney (for cities whose population exceeds 750,000) may also enforce Proposition 65. In addition, any individual acting in the public interest may enforce Proposition 65 by filing a lawsuit against a business alleged to be in violation of this law. Lawsuits have been filed by the Attorney General's Office, district attorneys, consumer advocacy groups, and private citizens and law firms. Penalties for violating Proposition 65 by failing to provide notices can be as high as $2,500 per violation per day.

Although Proposition 65 has benefited Californians, it has come at a cost for companies doing business in the state. They have incurred expenses to test products, develop alternatives to listed chemicals, reduce discharges, provide warnings, and otherwise comply with this law. Recognizing that compliance with Proposition 65 comes at a price, OEHHA is working to make the law's regulatory requirements as clear as possible and ensure that chemicals are listed in accordance with rigorous science in an open public process.

Where can I get more information on Proposition 65?

For general information on the Proposition 65 list of chemicals, you may contact OEHHA's Proposition 65 program at (916) 445-6900, or visit the Proposition 65 page. For enforcement information, contact the California Attorney General's Office at (510) 622-2160, or visit <http://ag.ca.gov/prop65/>
